

TEEN COMMUNITY SERVICE- CS STUDENTS CLUB

Compassionate & empathetic these are the qualities which help to identify our student community. Oxfordians are ever willing to lend a helping hand to the community no matter what the noble cause is. This time around our student body went a step further by laying the foundations of a Teens Community Service Club. The Community Service Club president & members took the initiative of galvanizing the student body in organizing a bake sale. The clubs' members agreed to support the cause of building a mosque & were able to raise Dhs. 3500 within an hour. The students were suitably happy with their efforts & have already started planning their next charitable venture.

All ready to attend to their customers

Engrossed in brisk business activities—all for a good cause
